Kathleen Alpass Scholarship 2018

The late Kathleen Alpass (nee Kemp of Murtoa, Victoria) entered Concordia College in 1927 as a member of the inaugural class of girls. Her husband, the late George Nathaniel Alpass, upon his death, bequeathed his estate towards the establishment of the Kathleen Alpass Scholarship to be granted annually to a new or continuing student of Concordia College whom the trustees in their absolute discretion chose as being the most promising and financially deserving student of the College.

The Scholarship is to be used by the recipient for the purpose of paying fees reasonably incidental to the education of that scholar. This would include, for example, tuition fees, books and stationery, uniform requirements, travel to and from Concordia College. The 2018 scholarship is valued at $2,500. This one year scholarship is available to a new student or a current student of Concordia College.

The College appreciates the generosity of the late Mr Alpass in making this scholarship available and considers it unique and fitting that it was inaugurated during the year in which the Golden Jubilee of co-education at Concordia was observed. We trust that this annual award will help a student enjoy a Christian education which might otherwise have been denied due to financial hardship.

Criteria for Award
